He is coined the genius behind the New Jack Swing phenomenon of the late 1980's. Keith Sweat's timely transition to the R&B mecca of Atlanta in 1992 added "label impresario" to his roster of talents. Keith has dominated the Pop and R&B worlds with an indefinable presence. His debut and now classic album Make It Last Forever sold more than three million copies, producing four R&B hit singles, including "I Want Her," which also landed at #5 on the Pop charts. The album stats also include a nomination for the 1989 Soul Train Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Song of the Year award. He has thrived as one of Atlanta's first record industry moguls, building his own recording studio and discovering new artists such as Silk and Kut Kloze – signing both multi-platinum groups to his Keia Record label. His 2008 album Just Me made waves on radio and at cash registers and endorsed his claims to remain "in the game". Keith released his tenth studio album Ridin Solo in 2010. Sweat's Platinum House, yielded #1 ranking on the Centric network – of which, he was Creator and Executive Producer.

On the cusp of his third decade in the spotlight, Sweat has almost become a genre unto himself, his pleading ballads a mainstay of radio's "Quiet Storm" format. As if in acknowledgement of that, Sweat hosts the #1 night time nationally syndicated radio show, "The Sweat Hotel". The live call-in program boasts 3 million listeners exchanging dialogue with Keith about matters of the heart. Like the steady beat of his up tempo hits and tantalizing ballads, Keith Sweat, remains relevant – recently voted #11 on the list of the 20 Greatest R&B/Soul cd's of all time for his epic album Make It Last Forever by the Georgia Informer magazine. Keith Sweat garners an impressive fan base in the fickle genre of Pop R&B and continues to redefine boundaries.
